Press Release: Superb riding weather greeted competitors for round 5 and 6 of the Canadian Enduro Championships in Labelle Quebec. The course was much the same as it has been for the past two season, wet, rooty and slippery Canadian shield....very technical, challenging and hard on the motorcycle.

Typically the first round in the east is the hardest for the western riders, and this was proved once again. At the end of round 5, Ben Rego was not happy with his performance or his 4th place E2. He found himself struggling with the deep, slippery ruts and slick rocks. Round 6 worked out much better for the man who travels from Kitimat British Columbia, with a 3rd place finish and 5th overall for the weekend. His FX 450 worked very well in the Xtreme test and cross test and the enduro test was a long 8 minute special test that tested every riders patience and endurance. He is very much looking forward to a strong finish this weekend in Owen Sound Ontario, at Motopark, to improve on his 4th place overall championship position

Team Captain, Lee Fryberger, entertained the Vet Pro class, riding an FE 570. "I love riding Labelle, its true enduro, hard, tough, technical" stated the veteran of the team who challenged Canadian off road legend Allan Lachapelle during round 5, missing the top step by 4 seconds. Despite his best efforts and a stronger ride during round 6, the results remained the same with a 2nd place, tied for second place for the championship.

The amateur A class was hotly contested and Cole Dobovich and Jessie Grummett both faced the tough conditions with the confidence of veterans. While both riders have had some experience in mud, the Labelle slime is something that they have yet experienced. Jessie has been riding better every race out, finished 5th both days of the event. Every round sees Jessie's confidence improve as he gains experience and confidence. Cole had strong rides both days, riding confidently in both the extreme test and the cross test, finishing 2nd both days. Both young riders are excited to head to Motopark and push for a strong finish to what has been a great season for both riders.
